RETIREMENT LAW FOR GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

The retirement law for Philippine government employees is primarily governed by Republic Act 8291 (the GSIS Act of 1997), which sets the general eligibility at age sixty (60) with at least 15 years of service.

Retirement packages under RA 8291

Option 1: 5-Year Lump Sum and Old Age Pension

Under this option, retirees can get their five-year pension in advance. The lump sum is equivalent to 60 months of the Basic Monthly Pension (BMP) payable at the time of retirement. After five years, retirees will start receiving their monthly pension.

Option 2: Cash payment and Basic Monthly

In option 2, retirees will receive a Cash Payment equivalent to 18 times the Basic Monthly Pension (BMP) payable upon retirement and then a monthly pension for life, payable immediately after retirement date.

Comfortable Retirement

Ang paghahanda sa pagreretiro ay hindi lang para sa ating sarili, kundi para rin sa ating mga mahal sa buhay. Narito ang ilang diskarte para maging maayos ang buhay sa pagretiro.

- 1. Matutong mag-ipon habang bata pa, habang may trabaho pa
- 2. Alamin ang iyong mga pangangailangan sa pagreretiro
- 3. Panatilihing malakas ang pangangatawan at isipan
- 4. Maging bukas sa mga bagong karanasan
- 5. Maaaring magsimula ng maliit na negosyo o tumanggap ng mga part-time na trabaho
